DEDICATION

I pass, like night, from land to land;
I have strange power of speech;
That moment that his face I see,
I know the man that must hear me:
To him my tale I teach.
Samuel Taylor Coleridge

"Hungry and thirsty, a stranger and naked, sick and in prison, each of us is traveling lickety-split in a fragile vehicle to the grave. Give meat and drink, shelter and warmth, love and comfort. Not ideas, not words, not games — but life-blood to the suffering and dying. Give yourself."

The years teach much which the days never know.
Emerson

"What do you do
Riding in the back of a hearse?
Play cards?
Take color slides of the passing scenery?
Fix the upholstery?
Discuss philosophy?
Argue?
Complain?
Pray?
Or comfort your frightened fellow passengers?
On the trip to the graveyard
What really matters?"

Some people in Weston High School would identify daily quotations on a blackboard with Marshall G. Pratt. These particular quotations never appeared on his blackboard in Room 201, but we feel that they give more "mileage" than any words of praise ever could.

Mr. Pratt is an English teacher, but he teaches more than "English." He crams his lessons with his own experiences, which tell more about life than grammar ever could.

Another thing that students will invariably associate with Mr. Pratt as long as he remains at Weston High School is the Yearbook. Though he is no longer a Yearbook adviser, his influence on the staff is still strong. The "Pratt method" of putting out a yearbook has been altered somewhat, but basically remains the same.

Counselor, adviser, storyteller, — teacher — we dedicate this yearbook to you, Mr. Pratt.

RECOGNITION

There are two people in Weston High School who have aided not only the class of 1974 but also everyone else with whom they have come in contact. These two seemingly tireless women are Mrs. Gratcy and Mrs. Smith. They can be seen from 7:30 to 4 in their "cell" — namely, the attendance office. Whether "keeping an eye peeled" for potential note carriers, handing out passes left and right, or cheerfully escorting a defaulter into Mr. Gearan's office, these two women are constantly working to keep the gears of the school turning.

In appreciation for the countless unsung, unheralded services which you have performed for the school, we, the class of 1974, thank you, Mrs. Gratcy and Mrs. Smith.

The yearbook staff would especially like to thank Mrs. Gratcy and Mrs. Smith for their tolerance of our intermittent and unpredictable demands for information.

SUNDAYS

CAROL B. ABBOTT December 25
33 Braydll Road
Senior class secretary . . . captain of the cheerleaders . . . hopes to teach . . . pet peeve: frowning . . . eats constantly . . . memories of Junior Ski Trip, Junior Skip Day . . . "Hi you guys!"

SARA ANTHONY May 26
440 Conant Road
Sometimes I can laugh and cry, and I can't remember why, but I still love those good times gone by, hold on to them close, or let them go, I don't know, I just seem to sing these songs and say I'm sorry to the friends I used to know.
James Taylor

DIANNE ARGYRIS May 10
58 Sylvan Lane

Merlyn wrung his hands.
"Well, anyway," he said, "Suppose they do not let you stand against all the evil in the world?"
"I could ask," said the Wart.
"You could ask," repeated Merlyn.
He thrust the end of his beard into his mouth, stared tragically at the fire, and began to munch fiercely.

T. H. White

JENNIFER P. ATKINS September 28
90 Kings Grant Road

may my heart always be open to little birds who are the secrets of living whatever they sing is better than to know and if men should not hear them men are old

and may myself do nothing usefully and love yourself so more than truly there's never been quite such a fool
who could fail
pulling all the sky over him with one smile

In the green sky I saw the new moon reaping,
And minded was I of my own life's field:
What harvest wilt thou to the sickle yield,
When through thy fields the moon goes sweeping?

LIBBY BAYLIES July 25
30 Winsor Way

Once, someone said something nice
about me,
And, all undeserved though I knew
it to be,
I treasured it there on my heart's
deepest shelf,
Till one day I quite surprised even myself
By honestly making an effort to be
That nice thing that somebody said
about me!

Where am I going? I don't quite know.
What does it matter where people go?
Down to the wood where the bluebells grow --
Anywhere, anywhere. I don't know.

A. A. Milne

Carol,
I'm really glad I had you for a teacher in soc. and also in Non West soc. I'm really sorry you have to end it so soon. I think you're a great teacher and I'm glad you're going to be in 9 years ago nice being in your class. Hope you'll come see us next year
Thank you

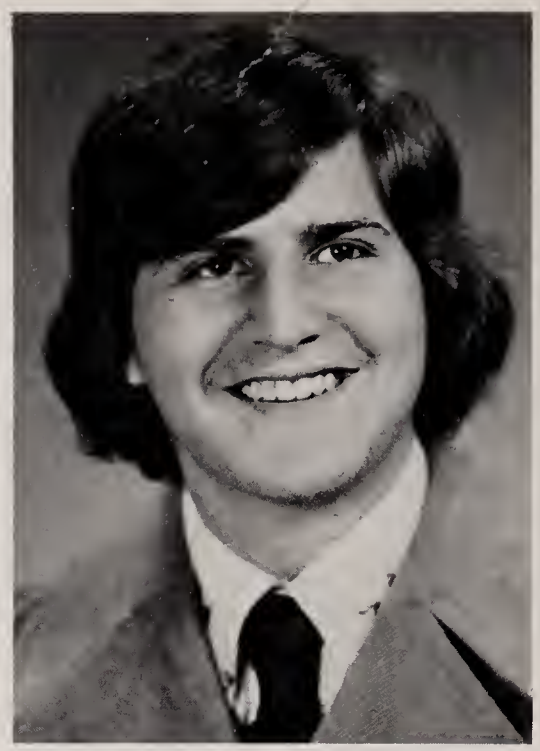
"So now," Piglet thought, "somebody else will have to do something, and I hope they will do it soon, because if they don't, I shall have to swim, which I can't, so I hope they do it now."

And then he gave a very long sigh and said, "I wish Pooh were here. It's so much more friendly with two."

A. A. Milne



CHARLES BRENNER November 29
54 Bullard Road
Press On. Nothing in the world can take the place of persistence. Talent will not; nothing is more common than unsuccessful men with talent. Genius will not; unrewarded genius is almost a proverb. Education alone will not; the world is full of educated derelicts. Persistence and determination alone are omnipotent.

When all the stars are falling down
Into the sea and on the ground,
And angry voices carry on the wind,
A beam of light will fill your head
And you'll remember what's been said
By all the good men this world's ever known.
Another man is what you'll see,
Who looks like you and looks like me,
And yet somehow he will not feel the same,
His light caught up in misery,
he doesn't think like you and me,

Time is but the stream I go a-fishing in. I drink, but while I drink I see the sandy bottom and detect how shallow it is. Its thin current slides away, but eternity remains. I would drink deeper; fish in the sky, whose bottom is pebbly with stars. I cannot count one. I know not the first letter of the alphabet. I have always been regretting that I was as not as wise as the first day I was born.

SENIOR CLASS ADVISERS . . .

You began your contributions to Weston High School as a student, Mr. Starmer. You opened the door, showing us that the world of the past and the world of the future bring with them the chance to change. You have made "game-winning" decisions, working toward the building of our class character and developing the best in us. In the classroom, in the corridors and on the athletic field, you have become a friend as well as an instructor. Always there with a joke, a laugh, and a bit of advice, you have been a man on whom we could depend. Your dedication has encouraged us, bringing enthusiasm to class activities. You have shown honesty and concern. People move in and out of our lives; you have provided ties of friendship that we hope will last.

We give you this recognition with special thanks, and with the hope that you will remember us always as true friends. Thank you, Mr. Starmer.

A SPECIAL RECOGNITION

Come in little boys & girls it's time to learn about self breast examination.

It is hard to find words to describe you, Miss Weller. Patient and friendly, smiling, helpful, considerate, optimistic, outgoing, enthusiastic and dynamic--these words still seem somehow inadequate. You have something of value which is yours alone, your own real real wealth. You have made high school more than just a place for us. Your ideas have been blended and contributed in a special way. You have become involved, bringing the most you can to our class. As a truly dynamic person, you are always contributing whenever you can. You have encouraged everyone to give something and gain from what another has to offer. In this recognition, we thank you for the countless number of things that you have done for us. We cannot express enough our appreciation. Our friendship has lasted through the best and the worst, Miss Weller. We hope it will continue.

SARAH WILLIAMS CLIFTON April 12
45 Saddle Hill Road
I see that child who lay upon her bosom, and who bore my name, a man winning his way up in that path of life which once was mine. I see him winning it so well, that my name is made illustrious there by the light of his. I see the blots I threw upon it faded away. I see him foremost of just judges and honored men, bringing a boy of my name, with a forehead that I know, and golden hair, to this place--then fair to look upon, with not a trace of this day's disfigurement--and I hear him tell the child my story with a tender and a faltering voice.

The 1973 Girls Field Hockey team opened its season with Cozzie's famous two-mile "run". Everyday the seniors showed their superiority as they whizzed by the underclassmen who couldn't seem to make it past the concession stand. As the season progressed: for some unknown reason, Carol made frequent visits to those pink swinging doors in the girls' locker room . . . Laurie's excellent technique of running or falling? . . . Ellen (asst. coach) constantly kept Miss Cosgrove wondering . . . Karen and her cubs entertained Wayland with their Halloween costumes . . . fond memories . . . bus ride song's: "You Can't Ride In My Red Wagon", "Swinging On The Outhouse Door" led by the conductor, Jubilant Janet and Nuthead Nancy . . . but we thought Martha graduated . . . dinner at Cosgrove's . . . soccer vs. field hockey at hockey? . . . weekend practices but where's Cozzie? . . . every day is Dotty's day . . . Jo-Anne showed us all how to play the field . . . the undefeated record of 7-0-6 accounted for the D.C.L. championship . . . the season went up in smoke with cigars . . . Raytheon: The household word you never hear.

In the kitchen, we're better known by the companies we keep.

Our subsidiaries, Amana and Caloric, specialize in products that make life more comfortable, more convenient.

For instance, Amana Radarange® microwave ovens that dramatically cut cooking times. Freezers and refrigerators you never have to defrost. Step-saving trash compactors. Caloric ranges with self-cleaning ovens.

And throughout the home, Amana air conditioners quietly create the perfect climate for comfort.

Quality products from quality companies. Raytheon companies.

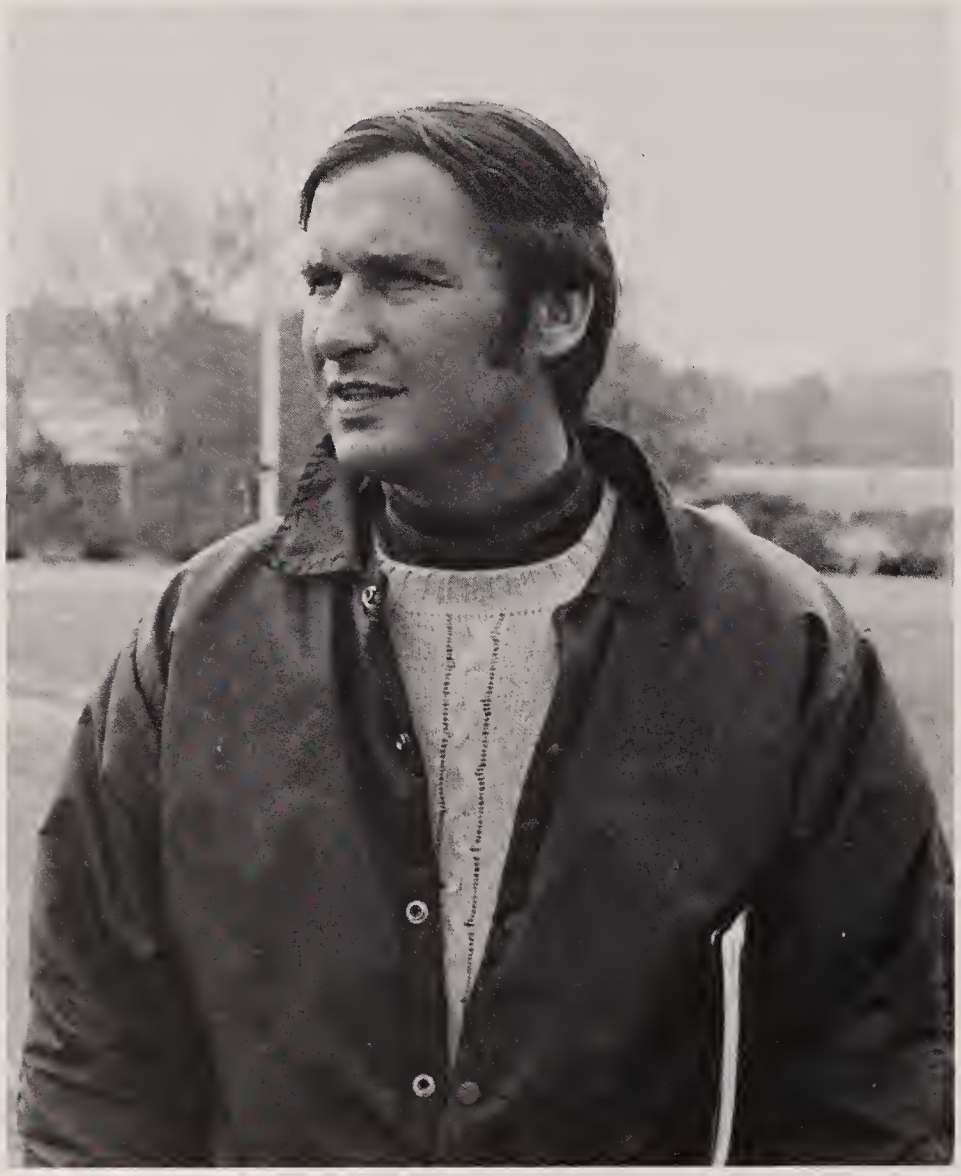
IN MEMORIAM



RONALD J. O'LAUGHLIN
March 29, 1940--February 17, 1974

"Better to have been in the arena and lost, than never to have been in the arena at all."

Winning is fun. Sure.
But winning is not the point.
Wanting to win is the point.
Not giving up is the point.
Never being satisfied with what you've done is the point.
Play to win. Sure.
But lose like a champion.
Because it's not winning that counts.
What counts is trying.
